A THEATRICAL TREAT

Commencing Next Monday Labor Day the Columbia Stock Company Will Start Shows

The Columbia Stock Co., an organization composed of ladies and gentlemen, that have made acting a life study, are going to give Alexandria what we haven't had for a long time, permanent stock, remaining here as long as business warrants it, presenting during that time three new plays each week.

This company comes here direct from a 12 weeks run in Bridgeton, N. J., where they met with great success and made many friends and sincerely hope that they will do the same here.

Judging from the criticism of the Bridgeton papers the Company is far above the ordinary not alone in equipment such a scenery and wardrobe but also as regard their acting ability and their conduct as ladies and gentlemen at all times.

Our genial manager Mr. B. B. Smith always on look out for the best to be had for his patrons of the Opera House picked this company out of a number of applicants as being the best suited to the needs of a company that has a large repertoire of plays and puts them in right in fact a real stock company in every sense of the word and a Repertory Show.

The prices during this engagement will be 10c upstairs and 20c down stairs children 10c thus giving everybody a chance to see every play without great expense, seeing a two hour show of real plays put on by real people. The first week's attractions will be found in an advertisement in this issue.

The body of Mrs. Maud E. Kennedy a widow forty-five years old was found yesterday in a vacant lot far from the center of Los Angeles. The appearance of the body indicated that Mrs. Kennedy had been asphyxiated with ammonia and her body dragged for some distance. The police believe she was murdered for her jewelry as she always wore a number of diamonds.

Girls Beat Rubberneck

Milwaukee Wis Sept 2—Seven nude girl stenographers seeking a swim last Sunday resented a rubberneck fellow trapped him on the bank and beat him unmercifully.

Then when his eyes were so bunged up he no longer could see whether the seven stenographers had doined their clothes or not the girls called a policeman.

The rubberneck fellow is said to be a son of an exclusive family who heard the seven stenographers on a street car plan to take a swim in the Milwaukee river north of the city.

STAUNTON IS NOT BANKRUPT.

It has not cost Staunton a cent to get rid of the saloon.

It is remarkable what a transformation has taken place especially in the street and there is no one who ventures to suggest that there are going to be any backward steps.

These are living arguments that cannot be disposed of by assertions of what is going on in other States—Staunton Daily Leader.
